HEALTHINESS

Do you know the status your energy?

Do you sometimes feel weak and listless or experience symptoms of fatigue, and internal unrest?

We would recommend a body scan for all those who are concerned about their health and are interested in active preventative measures. The so-called “killer” of energy and vitality is revealed, and you can utilise your own resources in a more targeted manner. You will discover sensory experience “off-line” and can use this constructively. Since balance is not static it can be restored time and again.

Digital networking enables us to ask questions remotely about the status of your vitality. The trend towards mobile healthcare has become a constant companion.

Take your healthcare into your own hands and relate lifestyle to vitality.

HEALTH IS MEASURABLE.

The plan comes from the results of your personal body scan and the resulting organ biofeedback. The sophisticated individual diagnosis reveals multifaceted insights into the current state of your intrinsic energy and vitality. The analysis is based on empirical research studies, on computations of various algorithms and on technological research.

SYSTEM ONE® - What blood levels can reveal. Fascinating and convincing.

In only 120 seconds the sensor painlessly and non-invasively (without blood samples) can measure more than 250 vital signs. The results are comparable to laboratory measurements and reveal detailed and complex insights into the current state of your health as well as the body's organ and metabolic functions.

SCAN PROFILE

Blood lipids, trace elements, amino acids, vitamins, insulin values, sugar metabolism, connective tissues, skin and allergies, cardio and cerebrovascular systems, functions of the stomach, bowel, liver/gall bladder, kidneys, lungs, thyroid gland, heavy metals, toxins, endocrine system (hormones).

Body scan incl. coaching & interpretation of the scan profile.

CHF 150

ETASCAN® - Complementary Medicine's Alternative Technology

The Etascan® is a bio-energy balance and wellness measuring device which records and shows the frequency patterns within the human body. The invisible becomes visible. The result is a precise image of one's actual physical condition. The reading can clarify the causes of the body's imbalances and aid the body so that it recovers its ability to self-regularise.

SCAN PROFILE

Current state of the condition of your body, mental imbalances, physical stress, burnout & boreout, general intolerances, sensitivities to chemicals or electromagnetic fields, heavy metal pollution, imbalances in your metabolism, over or underactive organs, effects of negative energy e.g. environmental causes, bacteria, viruses and factors causing stress. Body scan incl. coaching & interpretation of the scan profile

Whatever's good for you?

What is the most effective way to relax in order to replenish your energy levels?

We combine the very best in a single treatment developed by our homeopathic practitioner and team of physiotherapists. Bioenergetic treatment methods are used to stimulate parts of the body in order to guide the autonomic nervous system to greater relaxation. Our specific massage techniques relieve tired muscles and promote suppleness of the connective tissues, thereby boosting muscle recovery and achieving a more toned body.

Tell us about your wishes so that we can achieve the best results for you with our personalised massage therapy.

LET'S SWING - to get a centered posture

The functional principle of OSFLOW® BODY SWING is a centring oscillation platform that creates an optimal alignment of the biomechanical skeletal system. A novelty in the wellness market, developed from principles of natural movement and the internal martial art form of Taijiquan.

One of the proven strong points is in connection with so-called "bone pressure". This is indicated by pulsation in the piezo-electric field in the bones. The oscillation platform gently centres your natural posture and helps relieve tension right through to deeper tissues.

THE BENEFITS

- Centres and stabilises the spine
- Strengthens bones and joints and overall strength
- Increases balance, stability and coordination.
- Prevents falls
- Reduces pain (back, neck, legs and joints)
- Relieves nerves, beneficially, impacts blood and lymph circulation

APPLICATION

OSFLOW® - Body swing plus massage

Oscillation of ankle, knee, hip, shoulders and the whole length of the spine. The pelvis is straightened, sacrum and tailbone drop down. The body swing is accompanied by a body massage ..50 min.
